Opinion

An unborn baby is not a human yet.

Unborn babies don't feel the pain of abortion.

Abortion is a viable choice for a crisis pregnancy.

If a woman can't be a parent, abortion is the only choice. It's better to not bring an unwanted baby into the world.

Science

Preborn babies have their own unique DNA.

At 6 weeks in the womb, babies react to touch. Video has captured babies hiding from abortion instruments.

Studies show much higher suicide rates and psychological hospital admissions for women who have had abortions.

Adoption is a positive alternative to abortion. Help is available for crisis pregnancies. Adoption protects the baby's life and the birth mother from psychological trauma.
